welcome

Welcome to the second edition of Runnymede Voice.

This edition gives you a number of reasons to make the most of the summer months in Runnymede. There are plenty of activities to enjoy in the borough and our leisure pages (pages 8 to 11) give you some ideas of what's going on right on your doorstep. Whether you're interested in finding school holiday activities for your children or discovering new walk routes, why not have a read and see what's on offer.

Summer is the ideal time to start composting your extra garden waste – and we have details of how you can get discounts on compost bins. If you don't fancy composting, our green waste recycling service offers an environmentally friendly alternative – details of both are on page 14. Our cut-out-and keep guide to recycling on the back page also gives an up-to-date summary of our recycling service.

We hope you've noticed that the photographs in this magazine are of Runnymede people. If you would like you or your family to be photographed for a future edition, please get in touch with the editor of Runnymede Voice, Toni Noble. She'll also be delighted to hear from you with any feedback, comments or suggestions for future editions.

I hope you enjoy reading about your borough and your services.
